

Alternate Lyrics for Family and Friends

For parents, grandparents, sisters, brothers, aunts, and uncles:

(To the tune of "It had to be you")

It had to be you
There's no one like you You've always been there to show that you care
'cause that's what you do

And when I was blue you helped me get through like turning my sad into a glad for that I thank you - (that I thank you) Sometimes I was mean (I was mean) I made such a scene (made such a scene) then you got cross said you were boss - or for a younger sibling.... when I said I was boss We cried, we laughed too with me growing up you had your fill with all my faults you loved me still There's no one like you, yeah, no one like you Mom (or Dad, sis, person's name, folks) I love you (always love you)

For a Friend:

(To the tune of "I Don't Know Why I Love You Like I Do")

Now I know why, I chose you as a friend
You will be true to the end
Now I know why I chose you as a friend You'll know by this song that I send You're always there in good times and sad times

To always offer comfort, and share my glad times
Now I know why, I chose you as a friend
You will be true to the end,

(three parts hum, lead repeats first paragraph)

I am a better person, for knowing you Your presence in my life has enriched me, Thank you
Now I know why, I chose you as a friend
Friendship like ours never ends,
You will be true to the end
